

Based in Malaysia, Transnational Education is a multi-faceted educational consultancy composed of a team of professional educationalists offering Malaysian families counselling and placement for Malaysian students seeking an education in the UK, including Prep School, Senior School and Higher Education.

We recognise the difficulties families experience in sifting through all the options for a student's education abroad, particularly in selecting a boarding education. Malaysians increasingly appreciate the quality of British independent school education and the outstanding impact such an education has on a child's development, all round experience and academic qualification.

Transnational Education offers a service which promotes a UK boarding education and provides information, counselling and support for student entry across the usual age spectrum, using the principle, 'Horses for Courses'.

We aim to promote a number of entry points, including a one or two year pre – Senior School experience in a Preparatory School which prepares a student for selection, application and entrance for a Senior School, and Packwood Haugh is an excellent example of this process.

Transnational Education employs a team of experienced educators which includes an ex Headmaster of a UK independent school and nine headships of international schools in six different countries, and an Ofsted and HMC inspector and Registration Inspector for Cambridge International Examinations.
